Gonzales County reports new cases of COVID-19

Gonzales County is reporting three new cases of COVID-19, the disease caused by the new coronavirus, which brings the case count to a total of eight positive cases. The individuals are currently experiencing mild symptoms and are isolating at home. It has been determined that one case is associated with community spread of the virus, and two cases can be attributed to the individuals having close contact with a COVID-19 positive patient.

Given the increases in community spread throughout the United States, all individuals are at some risk of exposures to COVID-19. Everyone should monitor themselves for symptoms of COVID-19, practice social distancing, and stay home if they become sick, except to seek necessary medical care. The Texas Department of State Health Services is supporting Gonzales County in identifying any close contacts of the patient, so they can be isolated, monitored for symptoms, and quickly tested, if needed.

As per the above statement Gonzales County now has three new confirmed positive cases #6, #7, #8.

One patient is located in the unincorporated area outside the city of Gonzales.

One patient is located in Harwood.

One patient is located in the city limits of Waelder.

Cases are currently being investigated by DSHS.

There are things everyone can do to help prevent the spread of COVID-19:

- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. If soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth with unwashed hands.
- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Stay home when you are sick.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then wash your hands.
- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.

Minimizing exposure is especially important for people who are 65 or older or who have an underlying health condition like heart disease, lung disease, diabetes, high blood pressure or cancer. People in those groups have a higher risk of developing severe disease if they do get COVID-19, and the safest thing for them during an outbreak will be to stay home as much as possible and minimize close contact with other people. To get ready, they should talk to their doctor about getting additional prescription medications and have enough household items and groceries on hand to stay home as needed.
